India wants talks to start in Myanmar for end of violence

New Delhi: Expressing con-cern over the intensefighting in Myanmar, between securi-ty forces and rebel groups in border areas leading to an influx of refugees into Mizo-ram, India called for cessa-tion of violence and initia-tion of constructive dialogue

New Delhi: The Indian Chest Society (ICS), which represents over 6,000 respi-ratory medicine specialists across the country, has op-posed the National Medical Commission's (NMC) deci-sion to drop respiratory medicine from its list of es-sential departments in medical colleges for the MBBS course.

medical colleges for the MBBS course.

In a position statement published in the journal Hung India, the ICS has demanded the NMC should relistate the department of respiratory medical colleges running undergraduate courses across India.

of the feetback and responses.

Two months later, a gazette notification was published, which highlighted that three departments (departments of respiratory medicine, and physical medicine and rehabilitation) were excluded from the list of required departments for running undergraduate courses and a new department (department (department (department of integrative medical research) was included.

grative medical research) was included.
The ICS said it is important that all MBBS students acquire knowledge and skills to manage patients of respiratory diseases during their MBBS curriculum from the department of respiratory medicine.
